Distribution of material must be confined to the exhibitors tables. Candy can be distributed at the exhibitors table but they must be individually wrapped.

Exhibit space must be staffed during all exhibit hall hours.

Exhibitor GAME & Silent Auction

How It Works

As a way to facilitate engaging conversation and networking opportunities between conference exhibitors and attendees, NAMAS will be hosting an interactive giveaway opportunity which will take place during all exhibit hall hours.

The purpose of the game is to provide you as an exhibitor with opportunities to engage in conversation with attendees where they can see how your organization may benefit from what you have to offer.

Upon check in, you as an exhibitor will receive a supply of raffle tickets. During exhibit hall times, you will have the authority to award tickets to the conference attendee for not only visiting your booth, but for engaging in meaningful conversation, purchasing your products, etc.

Attendees will then be able to utilize their tickets to enter to win a variety of prizes, offered throughout the exhibit hall. Attendees can begin entering to win prizes during the first exhibit hall opportunity. All winners will be announced during the morning break on the last day of conference.

To help ensure that our giveaway is a success, we are kindly asking that each exhibitor donate a prize for the auction. The prize can be a tangible item (electronic, gift card, product offered by your organization, or any item you feel will be of value to our attendees) or can be in the form of a certificate for a complimentary service, product, etc. offered by your organization.
